

'OBSELETE,' SAYS JAPAN OF PACT WITH BRITAIN

4 or 9 Power Alliance to Be Suggested.

(By a Staff Correspondent.)
Washington, D. C., Dec. 6.—(Special.)—Japan will denounce the Anglo-Japanese alliance as obsolescent at the next plenary session of the conference, it was stated tonight on excellent authority.

At the same time a new agreement, intended to substitute for the Anglo-Japanese pact, and embodying the main features of the American naval limitation plan will be announced and agreed to, it is declared.

This would constitute the main result of the conference. Members of the American advisory committee are said to be planning to aid actively in the appeal to American public opinion in support of the treaty on this subject, which is expected to follow the conference.

America Can't Discuss It.
The new agreement, it is said, would be a quadrilateral one, the United States, Great Britain, Japan, and France participating.

It is this agreement which is referred to in cable dispatches from London, but which the American government has declined to discuss or to admit is under consideration.

The point is made here that the United States cannot presume to talk of the Anglo-Japanese alliance in a public manner because it is not a party thereto. This may explain American silence on the secret consideration that has been given to the subject.

Nine-Power Agreement Possible.
An alternate suggestion has been made for a nine power accord of these four and Italy, Belgium, Holland, and Portugal, which, with China, make up the total of the nations represented in a financial position to participate in industrial dealings in China.

Although details of the proposed accord—which will not exist as a treaty or other written agreement in present conception—have not been worked out, it is understood the agreement forms the basis and nucleus for President Harding's proposed association of nations.

SENATE FINANCE BODY SPLITS ON ALLIES DEBT ACT
Washington, D. C., Dec. 6.—The senate finance committee quit work tonight after a day's discussion of the foreign debt bill without having agreed on how the measure could be reported to the senate. Further consideration was postponed to Thursday.

The house's proposal placing the power of negotiating bases of settlement in the hands of a supervisory commission of five members was the stumbling block which upset the plan of committee leaders to have the senate begin work on the measure at once.

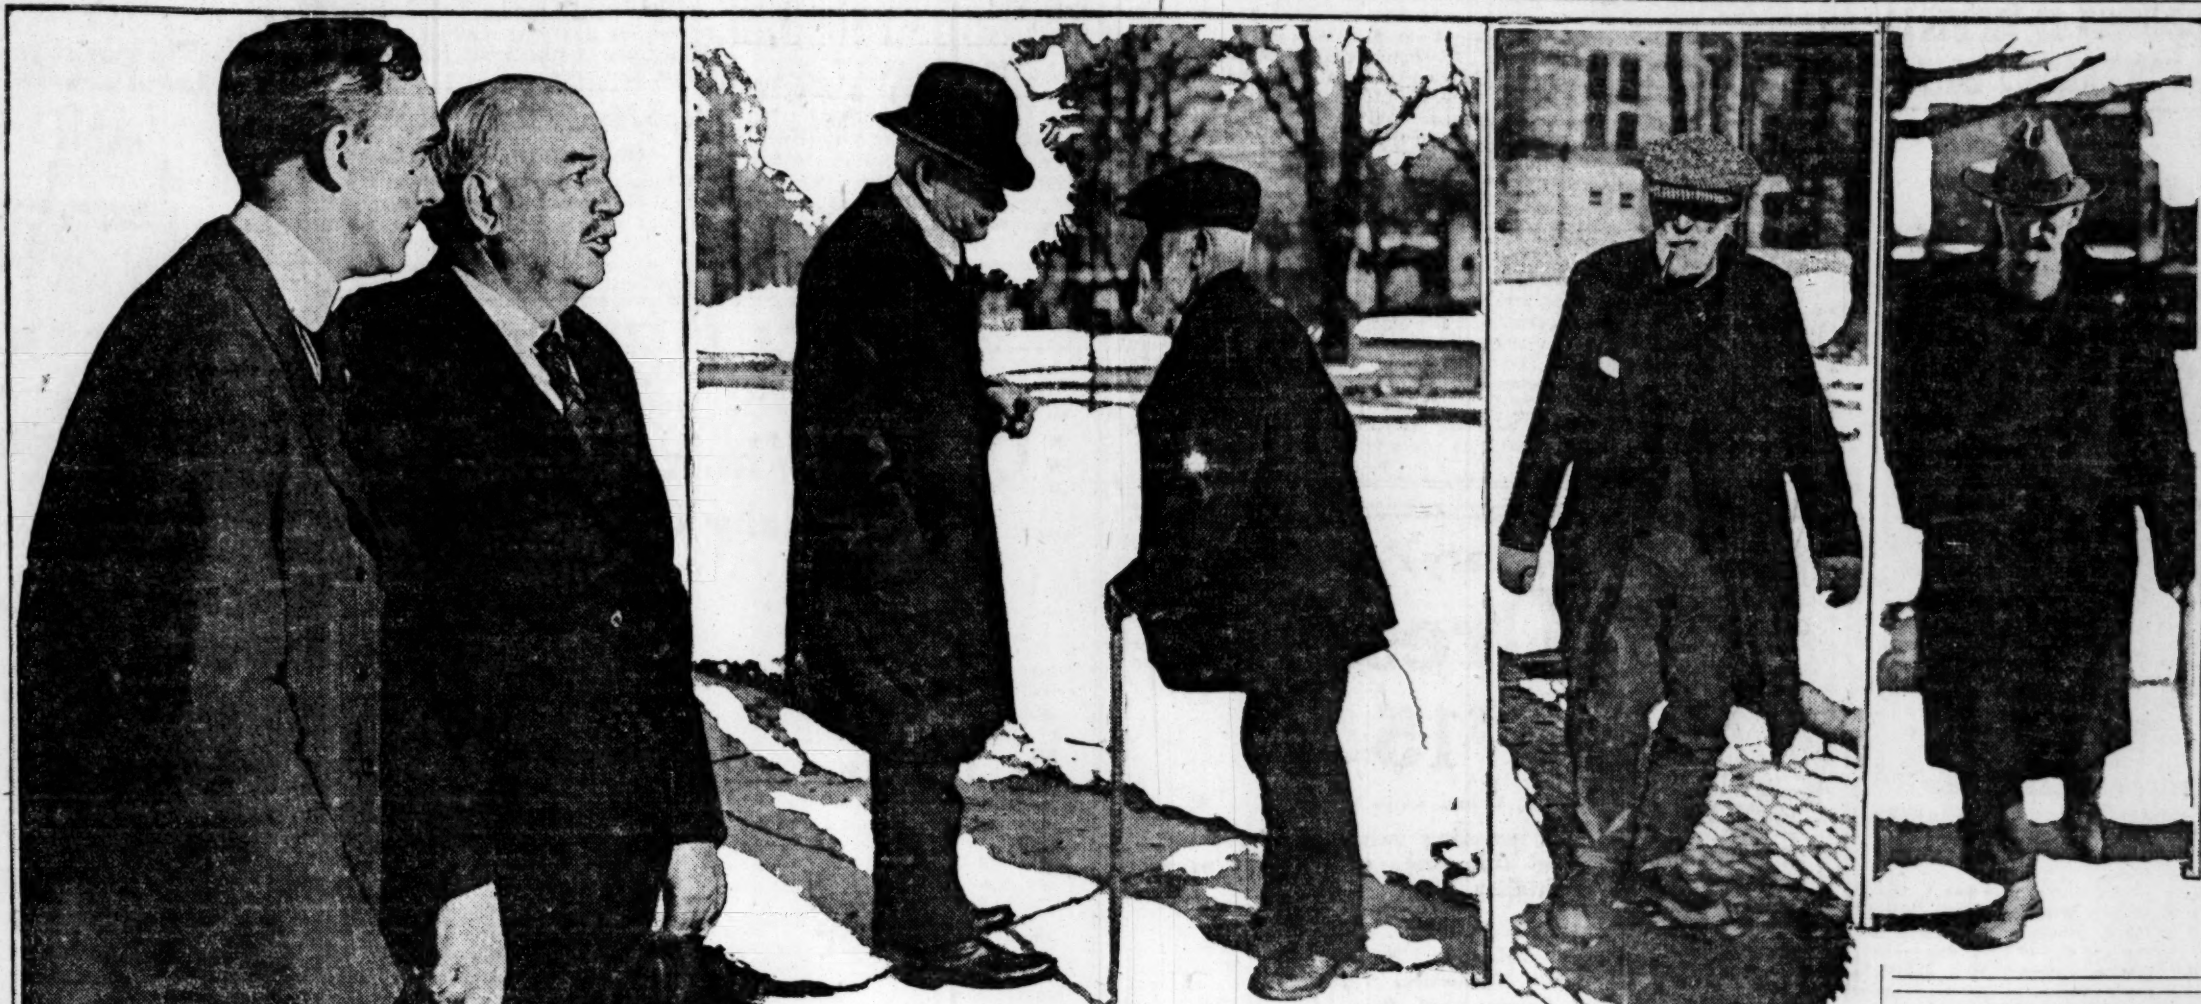

It was understood that several Republicans favored the amendment of Senator Simmons, North Carolina, ranking committee Democrat, which would strictly limit the power of the commission.

Mr. Simmons' amendment provides that there can be no cancellation or remission of principal or interest on any of the loans and specifies that the interest payments must not be delayed longer than July of next year.

Defendants in Small Case and Some Interested Spectators Caught by the Camera Yesterday

Gov. Len Small yesterday continued his fight at Waukegan to quash the indictments against him charging embezzlement of state funds. At the left of the picture are shown Vernon Curtis, co-defendant, and Gov. Small. The others are snapshots of citizens of Lake county, such as may be called for jury service if the indictments are held good.

SMALL CLAIMS HE CAN'T GET FAIR TRIAL IN STATE

Contends Grand Jury Report Illegal.

BY PARKE BROWN.
Gov. Len Small's chief of counsel, Attorney C. C. Le Forgue, contended yesterday that his client cannot obtain a fair trial anywhere in Illinois.

During the second day of argument before Judge Claire C. Edwards at Waukegan upon the validity of the indictments against his client, he placed extreme emphasis on his contention that the grand jury was not a fair jury outside the law in making the special return, which included a statement of the alleged conspiracy between Small, Lieut. Gov. Fred E. Sterling—then state treasurer—and Vernon Curtis of the "Grant Park bank."

This document, he showed by figures giving the circulation of Chicago newspapers in Lake county, had been brought to the attention of most of the possible jurors of that county. And he contended that the same condition existed throughout the state.

"As disclosed by the record in this case," he said, "12,000 of those things were circulated in this county and this man is asked to come before a community—and it would be the same anywhere else in Illinois—and select a jury to try his case."

During his argument upon this point the court tried to interrupt him, but he continued:

"Wherever it goes, before whatever tribunal within the limits and confines of Illinois Len Small is arraigned to fight for his life and his reputation and integrity before a jury of twelve men, that statement, unlawful, illegal, unwarranted, condemned by the courts of Illinois, follows him as a part of the record and you are asked to sustain the grand jury under those circumstances and you, as a judge, with these facts so apparent, are asked to put your stamp of approval on that."

Judge Edwards started to speak, but not hearing him, the attorney continued:

"I had started to say that this court will not be called upon to place the stamp of approval on the action of the grand jury of Sangamon county. But it seems to me the question for us is whether or not their action is so far outside their duty under the law that it nullifies this action."

To this Attorney Le Forgue agreed. His further argument was directed at the several counts in the conspiracy indictment. At one point he contended that the state had failed to charge that Gov. Small came into possession of the money of which it is alleged the state was defrauded. Attorneys for the prosecution said the indictment "in more than one place" alleged that Small, as well as Curtis and Sterling, converted the money to their own use.

Attorney Le Forgue expects to finish his argument this morning. He will be followed by Attorney Alexander Beaubien, who will attack the embezzlement warrants, and by Attorney Werner W. Schroeder, so that it is believed the defense will take all of today and part of tomorrow.

GOVERNMENT LISTS 11,000 AS ALLEGED EVADERS OF DRAFT

Utilized as Scout Boats During War.

BY GEN. HENRY J. REILLY.
Washington, D. C., Dec. 6.—(Special.)—The principal argument for a limitation of submarine tonnage more drastic than proposed by Mr. Hughes is based upon German ruthlessness in their use, and the implication that submarines will not be of legitimate tactical value except in defiance of ethics and humanity.

This argument is not well based. The history of warfare is full of ruthless use of the bayonet and the rifle. Heavy artillery and aircraft have been used for the bombardment of cities containing many innocent inhabitants. These facts are no argument for the abolition or drastic limitation of the rifle, bayonet, aircraft.

The British had a number of large "fleet" submarines with the grand fleet during most of the war, with the intention of using them in a fleet action. They maintained constantly a patrol of submarines off Heligoland to attack German men of war, and especially to report the movement of German naval forces. In this latter capacity the submarines repeatedly proved of the highest value. For example, the "battle of the Bight" was initiated by the British wholly in consequence of information obtained previously by British submarines.

At all stages of the war the Germans used submarines to observe and report movements of British naval forces. At the Dardanelles the Germans used submarines exclusively

DE VALERA MUM; MAY FIGHT ERIN PEACE TREATY

Parliament and Dail Will Act on Pact Soon.

Recognizes Ireland's Nationhood.
The main points of the treaty are, first of all, that it is called a treaty, thus recognizing Ireland's nationhood. Ireland shall have a constitutional place in the empire, with Canada, Australia, New Zealand, and South Africa, and her constitution shall be specifically based on that of Canada. The representative of the crown in Ireland shall be chosen in the same way as the Canadian viceroy.

The difficult question of allegiance has been got over by an ingenious formula for an oath, which must be taken by all members of the parliament of the Irish Free State—which is to be the name of the new dominion—as follows:

"I do solemnly swear true faith and allegiance to the constitution of the Irish Free State as by law established and that I will be faithful to his majesty King George V. and his heirs and successors by law, in virtue of the common citizenship of Ireland with Great Britain and her adherence to and membership of the group of nations forming the British commonwealth of nations."

Ireland Gets Own Army.

Other clauses in the document set out Ireland's right to have an army and coastal defense, her financial independence, her admission of liability for a share in the British debt, and British rights to control certain ports. Ulster is to be included in the Irish Free State, but has the right by petition to the king within a month to retain her present status. If she remains in the new Irish state she will retain local autonomy.

From Belfast tonight came reports that Premier Craig and other Ulster leaders were inclined to look much more favorably on the Irish treaty than they did the peace proposals recently rejected.

U. S. Recognized in Same Room.

The document was signed in the historic cabinet room where England recognized formally her loss of the American colonies and the birth of the United States. This morning it recognized the growing up of a sister and the gain of a friend and ally.

The signatures to the draft were attached by Mr. Lloyd George, J. Austen Chamberlain, Lord Birkenhead, and Winston Churchill for England, and Arthur Griffith, Gavan Duffy, and Robert Barton for Ireland. A few minutes later Mr. Lloyd George's secretary, G. H. Shakespeare, rushed out into the street, where an automobile was waiting. He dashed off for Euston station, from where he left on a special train for Holyhead. He then boarded one of the fastest destroyers in the British navy for Belfast.

Thus Mr. Lloyd George kept his word to Sir James Craig to have the new proposals in his hands today. But instead of proposals it was a treaty.

"It Is Peace."

The next step was to wire a full report of the conference to the king at Sandringham, which was completed at 3 o'clock. A few minutes before 3 o'clock Lord Birkenhead came into the street, where there were more than 100 newspaper correspondents from all over the world waiting.

"It is peace," he said.
No time is to be lost in putting through the treaty. Mr. Lloyd George this morning communicated to the speaker that he had arranged to call parliament to meet Wednesday, Dec. 14. As parliament was prorogued a few weeks ago, it will meet in a new session and the king has arranged to open it in full state with a royal procession, a personal statement from the throne, and all the paraphernalia unknown since before the great war. It will be a two day session and it will be devoted exclusively to ratifying the Irish treaty and passing the resolutions necessary to give legislative effect to the provisions.

No date has yet been set for the meeting of Dail, but it can be summoned in a couple of days and it will probably meet before parliament.

King Congratulates Lloyd.
The king this morning sent a message of congratulation to Mr. Lloyd George, which was as follows:

"I am overjoyed to hear the splendid news that you have just sent me. I congratulate you with all my heart on the successful termination of these difficult and protracted negotiations, which is due to the patience and the conciliatory spirit which you

N. Y. SUPREME COURT DECISION IS VICTORY FOR FRANK J. GOULD

EDITH KELLY GOULD.

New York, Dec. 6.—[Special.]—Edith Kelly Gould's recent victory in the divorce tangle with Frank J. Gould was short-lived.

Today Gould's attorneys got an order from Supreme Court Justice Guy which at least temporarily saves him from paying the $5,000 legal expenses another justice awarded Mrs. Gould. Gould's move indicates he will appeal.

The trouble is over the divorce decree Gould got in Paris. Mrs. Gould contends it is not legal and filed suit in New York courts.

have shown throughout, and I am indeed happy in some small way to have contributed by my speech at Belfast to this great achievement." Mr. Lloyd George was described today by his associates as being the happiest man in the empire. Despite the all night sitting he was up at 9 this morning skipping along the corridors at Downing street like a 5 year old child. He has been inundated with telegrams of congratulation from all parts of the empire.

Arrangements are being made for special prayers in the churches thanking God for the Irish peace next Sunday. Two archbishops and the free church leaders are meeting this week to agree on a form of prayer.

Ulster Seems More Friendly.

Mr. Lloyd George's messenger arrived at Belfast at 2:30 p. m. and delivered his message immediately. Craig appeared in parliament at 2:30 p. m. and said he had just received a letter, but he had not broken the seal and he could not reveal the contents until the cabinet had considered them.

The peace terms are likely to be more acceptable to the Ulster cabinet than was first anticipated, a dispatch from Belfast late tonight says. The cabinet held a two hour session this evening and adjourned until tomorrow afternoon. A secret caucus of the government supporters has been called for Thursday morning.

Sir James Craig, who may come to London tomorrow to interview Prime Minister Lloyd George on the details, regards this proposal as much preferable to the last scheme, which he rejected in one minute after looking at it. The Irish treaty will be subjected to sympathetic consideration, it was stated. Several details will have to be cleared up before the final pronouncement of the northern cabinet is made. Austen Chamberlain, who also spoke at Birmingham, said:

"I would appeal to Craig to consider not only safeguarding the full interests of Ireland, but also the interest of imperial unity and strength, by joining the Irish Free State."

Sir Edward Carson commenting on the peace in the Morning Post said: "I never thought that I should live to see the day of such abject humiliation for Great Britain."

Carson, who commanded the Ulster army in the crisis of 1914, has been one of the most irreconcilable die hards.

SYDNEY, Dec. 7.—The Irish settlement is enthusiastically received by the Australian press. The Telegraph says that no news could have been more welcome to the English speaking world and that the result will be beneficial to the whole empire, doing more to improve relations between Great Britain and the United States than all the speeches ever made. The Herald says that Ireland has had a miraculous deliverance and that nowhere is the news received with great relief than in the dominions.

John Steele, London Correspondent, Arranges Meetings at Which Sinn Féin Leaders and British Government Agree to Peace

JOHN STEELE, London correspondent of The Chicago Tribune.

Irish Government to Be Like Canada's.

LONDON, Dec. 6.—The full text of the agreement for the future of the Irish state follows:

ARTICLE I. Ireland shall have the constitutional status in the community of nations known as the British Empire, as the Dominion of Canada, the Commonwealth of Australia, the Dominion of New Zealand, and the Dominion of South Africa, with a parliament having powers to make laws for the peace, order and good government of Ireland, and an executive responsible to that parliament, and shall be known as the Irish Free State.

ARTICLE II. Subject to provisions hereinafter set out, the position of the Irish Free State in relation to the British Empire shall be that of the Dominion of Canada and the law, practice and constitutional usage of governing the relationship of the crown and the imperial parliament to the Dominion of Canada shall govern their relationship to the Irish Free State.

ARTICLE III. A representative of the Irish Free State shall be appointed in the manner as the governor general of Canada and in accordance with the practice observed in making such appointments.

ARTICLE IV. The oath to be taken by the members of the parliament of the Irish Free State shall be in the following form:

"I do solemnly swear true faith and allegiance to the constitution of the Irish Free State as by law established, and that I will be faithful to his Majesty King George V. and his heirs and successors by law, in virtue of the common citizenship of Ireland with Great Britain and her adherence to and membership of the group of nations forming the British Commonwealth of Nations."

ARTICLE V. The Irish Free State shall assume liability for service of the public debt of the United Kingdom as existing at the date thereof and towards the payment of war pensions as existing on that date in such proportion as may be fair and equitable, having regard to any claims on the part of Great Britain, the amount of such sums being determined, in default of agreement, by the arbitration of one or more independent persons being citizens of the British Empire.

ARTICLE VI. Until an arrangement has been made between the British and Irish governments whereby the Irish Free State undertakes her own defense, defense by sea of Great Britain and Ireland shall be undertaken by his Majesty's imperial forces, but this shall not prevent the construction or maintenance by the government of the Irish Free State of such vessels as are necessary for the protection of the revenue or the fisheries. The foregoing provisions of this article shall be reviewed at a conference of representatives of the British and Irish governments to be held at the expiration of five years from the date hereof with a view to the under taking by Ireland of a share in her own coastal defense.

ARTICLE VII. The government of the Irish Free State shall afford to his Majesty's imperial forces (a) in time of peace such harbor and other facilities as are indicated in the annex hereto; to, or such other facilities as may from time to time be agreed between the British government and the government of the Irish Free State, and (b) in time of war or strained relations with a foreign power such harbor and other facilities as the British government may require for the purpose of such defense, as aforesaid.

ARTICLE VIII. With a view to securing observance of the principle of international limitation of armaments if the government of the Irish Free State establishes and maintains a military defense force the establishment thereof shall not exceed in its size such proportion of the military establishments maintained in Great Britain as that which the population of Ireland bears to the population of Great Britain.

ARTICLE IX. The ports of Great Britain and the Irish Free State shall be freely open to the ships of the other country on the payment of the customary port and other dues.

ARTICLE X. The government of the Irish Free State agrees to pay fair compensation, on terms not less favorable than those accorded by the act of 1920, to judges, officials, members of police forces, and other public servants who are discharged by it or who retire in consequence of the change of government effected in pursuance of the heretofore paragraph. Provided that this agreement shall not apply to members of the auxiliary police force or persons recruited in Great Britain for the Royal Irish Constabulary during the two years next preceding the date hereof. The British government will assume responsibility for such compensation or pensions as may be payable to any of these excepted persons.

ARTICLE XI. Until the expiration of one month from the passing of the act of parliament for the ratification of this instrument the powers of the parliament and government of the Irish Free State shall not be exercisable as respects northern Ireland, and the provisions of the government of Ireland act of 1920 shall so far as they relate to northern Ireland remain of full force and effect and no election shall be held for the return of members to serve in the parliament of the Irish Free State for the constituencies of northern Ireland unless a resolution is passed by both houses of parliament of northern Ireland in favor of holding such elections before the end of said month.

ARTICLE XII. If before the expiration of said month an address is presented to His Majesty, by both houses of parliament of northern Ireland, that effect, the powers of the parliament and government of the Irish Free State shall no longer extend to northern Ireland and the provisions of the government of Ireland act of 1920 (including those relating to the council of Ireland) shall, so far as they relate to northern Ireland, continue to be of full force and effect, and this instrument shall have effect, subject to the necessary modifications;

Provided, that if such an address is so presented, a commission consisting of three persons, one to be appointed by the government of the Irish Free State, one to be appointed by the government of northern Ireland and one, who shall be chairman, to be appointed by the British government, shall determine in accordance with the wishes of the inhabitants, so far as may be compatible with economic and geographic conditions, the boundaries between northern Ireland and the rest of Ireland, and for the purposes of the government of Ireland act of 1920 and of this instrument the boundary of northern Ireland shall be such as may be determined by such commission.

ARTICLE XIII. For the purpose of the last foregoing article the powers of the parliament of southern Ireland under the government of Ireland act of 1920, to elect members of the council of Ireland, shall after the parliament of the Irish Free State is constituted be exercised by that parliament.

ARTICLE XIV. After the expiration of said month, if no such address is presented, the parliament of the government of northern Ireland shall continue to exercise as respects northern Ireland the powers conferred upon them by the government of Ireland act of 1920, but the parliament of the government of the Irish Free State shall in northern Ireland have in relation to matters, in respect of which the parliament of northern Ireland has not the power to make laws under that act (including matters which, under said act, are within the jurisdiction of the council of Ireland), the same powers as in the rest of Ireland, subject to such other provisions as may be agreed to in the manner hereinafter appearing.

ARTICLE XV. At any time after the date hereof the government of northern Ireland and the provisional government of southern Ireland, hereinafter constituted, may meet for the purpose of discussing provisions, subject to which the last of the foregoing article is to operate in the event of no such address as is therein mentioned being presented, and those provisions may include (a) safeguarding with regard to patronage in northern Ireland; (b) safeguards with regard to the collection of revenue in northern Ireland; (c) safeguards with regard to import and export duties affecting the trade and industry of northern Ireland; (d) safeguards for the minorities in northern Ireland; (e) settlement of financial relations between northern Ireland and the Irish Free State; (f) establishment and powers of a local militia in northern Ireland and the relation of the defense forces of the Irish Free State and of northern Ireland, respectively, and if at any such meeting the provisions agreed to be the same shall have effect as if they were included among the provisions subject to which the powers of parliament and of the government of the Irish Free State are to be exercisable in northern Ireland under article 14 hereof.

ARTICLE XVI. Neither the parliament of the Irish Free State nor the parliament of northern Ireland shall make any law so as either directly or indirectly to endow any religion or prohibit or restrict the free exercise thereof, or give any preference or impose any disability on the account of religious belief or religious status, or affect prejudicially the right of any child to attend school receiving public money without attending the religious instruction of the school, or make any discrimination as respects state aid between schools under the management of the different religious denominations or divert from any religious denomination or any educational institution any of its property, except for public utility purposes and on the payment of compensation.

ARTICLE XVII. By way of provisional arrangement for the administration of southern Ireland during the interval which must elapse between the date hereof and the constitution of a parliament and a government of the Irish Free State in accordance therewith, steps shall be taken forthwith for summoning a meeting of the members of parliament elected for constituencies in southern Ireland since the passing of the government of Ireland act in 1920 and for constituting a provisional government shall take steps necessary to transfer to such provisional government the powers and machinery requisite for the discharge of its duties, provided that every member of such provisional government shall have signified in writing his or her acceptance of the instrument. But this arrangement shall not continue in force beyond the expiration of twelve months from the date hereof.

ARTICLE XVIII. This instrument shall be submitted forthwith by his Majesty's government for the approval of parliament and by the Irish signatories to a meeting summoned for the purpose of members elected to sit in the house of commons of southern Ireland and if approved it shall be ratified by the necessary legislation.

LAUBENHEIMER GETS INTO 1922 SHERIFF'S RACE
Candidates for the Republican nomination for sheriff in 1922 of Harry Laubheimer, now chief deputy under Sheriff Charles W. Peters, has been formally launched. Mr. Laubheimer has been in the sheriff's office for eighteen years. He starts in the race with the support of the regular organization in the Lake View territory. It is understood. At a dinner given by the men in the sheriff's office with whom he has been associated Mr. Laubheimer was acclaimed as the next sheriff. Under the law Sheriff Peters cannot be a candidate to succeed himself. Organization of the wards in Mr. Laubheimer's behalf, it was stated, will begin immediately.

FRENCH MISSION TO SAIL DEC. 23; "EXPERTS" STAY
Washington, D. C., Dec. 6.—[Special.]—M. Rene Viviani, head of the French mission, tonight ordered reorganization for his delegation on the Savoy, sailing from New York on Dec. 23. M. Viviani is retaining his bookings on the Paris, sailing Dec. 14, but fears he will be unable to get away on that date.

Only half a dozen "experts" under the leadership of Ambassador Jusserand, will represent French interests in the committees.

DUBLIN IS HAPPY
OVER END OF LONG
FIGHT FOR LIBERTY

BY HUGH CURRAN.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

DUBLIN, Dec. 6.—Intense excitement prevailed in Dublin this evening as the citizens realized that peace had come. The way the question of the oath of allegiance was handled was the subject of admiration, although frequent protests were made by the Sinn Féin rank and file, as well as leaders, that allegiance would never be paid. However, there is a strong belief that the oath as outlined will be accepted.

So far as can be gathered the terms to Ulster have points which both the Sinn Féin and Ulster will accept, but undoubtedly these will neutralize each other. The Sinn Féin, apparently, had to give up the idea of a united Ireland, but if Ulster does not accept these terms it is held here that it will be the worse for the north.

On the Dublin stock exchange the news of the settlement had a booming effect on prices and hardened most securities. There has as yet been no demonstration outwardly, as the people are awaiting the official text. The general opinion of all who are informed is that the offer is the best that could be secured and as such popular opinion will rally around to make it a success.

SMOOT ECHOES HARDING'S VIEW ON TARIFF ACT

Puts Valuation Plan Up to the President.

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.)
Washington, D. C., Dec. 6.—[Special.]—President Harding's tariff recommendations are given concrete form in a bill introduced in the Senate today by Senator Smoot of Utah, who has held several conferences with the President during the last week. These amendments to the Fordney tariff bill were presented by Senator Smoot, as follows:

An authorization to the President to place the American valuation plan in effect in the case of such articles as he may consider desirable.

An authorization to the President to increase the specified rates of duty by not more than 50 per cent or to decrease them by not more than 50 per cent, with a view to providing an elastic tariff.

An authorization to the President to add special duties up to 50 per cent of the value of the article in the case of imports from a country whose currency has depreciated more than 5 per cent in value.

To Resume Hearings Today.

The Senate Finance Committee, which resumed hearings on the tariff tomorrow, will give consideration to the recommendations at the conclusion of the hearings on the various schedules. Approval of the President's recommendations as embodied in the Smoot amendments will mean the rewriting of all the ad valorem rates of duty to the Fordney bill as passed by the House. The Smoot amendment authorizing the President to place the American valuation plan in effect where considered desirable contemplates the fixing of ad valorem rates in the bill on the present foreign invoice basis. In many instances this will mean higher rates of duty than fixed by the House, and means committee, which first decided on rates on a foreign valuation basis and then scaled them down to one-third in order to give the same degree of protection under the American valuation plan.

American Valuation Plan Dead.

In view of the President's stand, it is the universal opinion that the American valuation plan of the Fordney bill is dead. While the President sought a sugar coat the House by recommending a provision making it possible to place American valuation in effect gradually, there is no disguising the fact that when the bill becomes effective under his scheme it will continue to fix duties under the foreign valuation plan.

Advocates of the American valuation plan made no effort to conceal their disappointment. They regard the President's plan as better than nothing, however, and believe that eventually it may be possible to obtain American valuation through a gradual process.

HARDING HITS AT U. S. TRADITIONS IN HIS MESSAGE

however, were inclined to hail the President's recommendation as a satisfactory basis upon which congress could work in its efforts to bring about a better relationship between capital and labor.

Senator Pendergast of Washington, Republican, advocate of anti-strike legislation for the railroads, declared that the President's suggestions for labor legislation were "very sound in principle."

"I agree," he said, "that a strike, especially in transportation, is just as destructive as open warfare. It ought to be controlled by the public within reasonable limits, just as we would control a man who gets out in the street with pistols to settle his grievances by force."

Worries Labor's Friends.

Senator Stanley of Kentucky, Democrat, a strong opponent of anti-strike legislation, declared that the President was "playing with fire," and expressed the view that "compulsory arbitration is contemplated."

Representative Burke of Pennsylvania, Republican, a strong labor sympathizer, said: "I do not like the labor part of the President's address. It looks as if he was advocating the Kansas plan. It is my impression that the matter could have been left alone. I am not for strikes, but if I understood social effects."

GOMPERS LIKENS LABOR COURT TO SLAVE TRIBUNAL

Washington, D. C., Dec. 6.—[Special.]—Strong opposition to President Harding's recommendation of judicial tribunals to decide labor disputes was voiced by President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor, in a statement today.

Experiences in Australia, New Zealand, and Kansas, Mr. Gompers declared, have proven such tribunals a failure.

He characterized the President's recommendation as a "reversion to conditions of 400 years ago, when the court of Quarter Sessions determined wages and condemned men to compulsory servitude and slavery."

"It is quite evident," Mr. Gompers declared, "that the President has in mind the establishment of a court of courts to determine the conditions and wages of the working people, and evidently with the aim that the courts can and will prevent strikes and lock-outs."

"Surely the experience of such courts in the Australian countries, surely the experience with such a court in Kansas, should have been a lesson for us. In New Zealand and in other Australian countries they have gone through the experience of more than twenty years and their utter failure has not only been recognized there, but they have been abandoned. Every observer and student knows these to be facts, and in the state of Kansas, where such a court has been in existence for the last two years, there are today more strikes and a larger number of men on strike than at any time in the history of Kansas."

"Our Country! In her intercourse with foreign nations she always be in the right; but our country right or wrong?"
—Stephen Decatur.

THE TRIBUNE'S PLATFORM FOR CHICAGO

1—Build the Subway Now.

THE MESSAGE.

In a message so comprehensive as to make anything more than general and partial comment impossible at this time, the President has dealt with the main concerns of his administration. But while discussion of his detailed recommendations and suggestions must be postponed, it is proper to express appreciation for a characteristic of his thought which will impress all readers and receive the earnest approbation of the nation. The message expresses a calm and carefully balanced consideration of the issues which are before the country. It is a message of moderation and earnest effort to lay hold of sound principles and practicable measures. There is in it the fine spirit of idealism which lives in the American conscience and yet it keeps its feet on the ground. There is a comforting minimum of rhetoric and of high flying generalization. The message in short is an expression of the common sense as well as the common feeling of the nation and is therefore capable of being realized in a profitable and well rounded body of legislation, executive action and well supported policy.

The President's recommendations of an early settlement of tariff revision, for authority for executive adjustment of a flexible tariff to meet the changing conditions incident to the present state of commercial and financial reorganization, and for authority to negotiate refunding arrangements of war debts are especially worthy of adoption. The return of business to healthful activity, already begun, will be aided and accelerated by the earliest possible decision on the main lines of our tariff policy; while the desirability of a greater flexibility in our tariff impositions regulated by executive control is clear to any disinterested observer of present international trade conditions. The older system of fixed schedules is inapplicable to our present problems. It is also necessary that the executive should have power to negotiate refunding conditions. No other plan, it seems to us, is practicable. The only way in which congress could assist in this matter is by the approval of general outlines of refunding policy, and the President himself assures congress no question of major policy will be determined without congressional approval. Especially we hope congress will recognize that the refunding of the huge debts owed us by foreign nations is a problem whose solution is one for impartial financial and economic science, and should not be complicated by sentiment or politics.

In both this matter and that of the tariff the present executive's sound and careful judgment and his breadth of view can be relied upon to protect American interests more effectively than they could be protected if left to the contending influences which manifest themselves in congressional discussion and action.

In his discussion of the problem of agricultural production and stabilization, of cooperative marketing, of rate policy resulting in undue concentration, with its attendant waste and mal-distribution of population, the President opens up a far reaching field of policy of primary importance to the nation's strength and healthy progress. In his discussion of industrial controversy and the evolution of better methods of adjustment and mutual aid he broaches another equally important. It is to be hoped his remarks will stimulate consideration of these questions throughout the nation and develop the intelligent and insistent public opinion necessary to their practical solution.

Other important topics of national concern will be discussed as opportunity offers. It is enough at this time to express the appreciation of the general tone and sanity of the message, which must give assurance to the nation that the government expresses that quality of common counsel and of practical grasp of vital problems which represents the genius of the American democracy and is its firm groundwork of progress.

"THE COURSE OF EMPIRE."

The news report of an approaching tripartite agreement between the United States, Great Britain, and Japan, though vague in detail and indefinite in promise, is good news. With such an agreement in force no one of the participants could afford to attack another. That means there would be no war.

The United States doesn't aspire to take anything away from Japan or Great Britain. But we are deeply involved in the orient through our responsibilities in the Philippines. Though pledged to hold them only until they are thoroughly capable of maintaining an enlightened government, we feel morally bound to defend them against aggression. As long as we retain that sentiment they are our Achilles heel.

Japan says it does not want the islands. It even professes favor of American control—if undefended. But what has been the course of expansion of the Japanese island empire? Starting with the four main islands of Nippon, Yezo, Shikoku, and Kishiu, it extended by war southward to include Formosa and northward to include Sakhalin and obtain a foothold on the peninsula of Kamchatka, which is the northerly limit of civilization. There is easy approach from Japan proper to Formosa by way of a string of Japanese islands. On the southern tip of Formosa a great military and aircraft base is in process of development. And Formosa is almost due north of Luzon, the most important of the Philippine group, and closer to Manila than it is to Nagasaki, the chief port of Kishiu. In other words, Japan has extended its island empire from an original covering approximately ten degrees of latitude to a present stretch of approximately thirty degrees.

To the south, within easy reach, lie the Philippines. And again to the south, as close to Mindanao as Mindanao is to Formosa, lies Australia, with numerous British possessions in between. That is where Great Britain comes in.

Japan says she doesn't want the Philippines. We do not want her to take them. But if she should take them it would be nothing more than a logical step in the course of the island empire. The next logical step would be upon British soil, with Australia as its chief objective. The natural simplicity of such extension may be noted on the map in an adjacent column.

If Britain scraps the Anglo-Japanese alliance and joins with the United States and Japan in a tripartite agreement providing not only for limitation of armaments but for limitation of territorial expansion in the Pacific, the British will serve their own ends and those of their dominions as well as ours and will impose no injustice upon Japan. That means peace.

GOOD NEWS FROM LONDON—IF IT LIVES.

London reports a settlement between the British and the Irish. We hope it sticks. One of the greatest possible benefits to the people of the world who speak English would be the end of fighting between the Irish and the British.

There have been three phases of conflict, one religious, one economic, and one nationalist. The religious issue was settled when the church was disestablished in 1869 and political equality of faiths permitted. Land laws at various times, especially those of 1881 and 1903, have disestablished the absentee landlord and have allowed the Irish to regain their land. The new promised agreement may settle the nationalist issue by creating the Irish Free State within the British empire.

If the analogy of the Orange Free State is good, the relations between Ireland and Great Britain ought to improve as time goes on. The two have natural reasons for good relations if natural causes can be released from the perversities of men. In the organization of agriculture and industry they need each other and can flourish in their interdependence.

If the Irish get a free state within the limitations of the agreement, they will have won it by fighting for it. The pressure their belligerency kept upon British opinion constantly liberalized the government's concessions. The English did not want to apply effective coercion. White civilization was sick of that. There was luckily Lloyd George to deal with the situation. With the Curzon type it would have been hopeless. Lloyd George has wings for every wind.

The United States has been inextricably involved in the Irish controversy. There are more Irish voices in the United States than there are in Ireland. We suspect the United States contained more objectors to English procedure in Ireland than Ireland did.

Englishmen have asked Americans why they permitted the Irish question to affect their politics. The American answer was, why did the English permit it to affect their own? There are more people of Irish blood and sympathies here than there.

We have had a candidate for President running for election on his promise of what he would do for Ireland in the League of Nations. We have had congress investigating the acts of the British in Ireland. We have had our politics and in some cases our national policies dominated by Irish hatred of Great Britain. The United States could not get rid of it because it was woven into the fabric of the nation.

The birds were singing yesterday morning. As the householder to whom the home edition of THE TRIBUNE is delivered picked up his paper he saw: "Irish and British Agree on Peace." Underneath the eight column streamer he read: "Japan, Britain, U. S. Delegates Agree on Navy." He saw two columns of Good Fellow story—"Make This Christmas the Merriest."

He found that France had agreed to give Germany a three year respite on debts and that Mr. Baifour had plumed roses on both sides of Mr. Hughes' coat. The weather forecast was "fair, with moderate temperatures."

Was it the same old hard boiled egg of a world upon which the sun had set the evening before? It seemed to have settled all its difficulties. There was nothing but sweetness and light. Pollyanna was queen of the May and the lambs did gambol on the green.

By the time the householder got to his corner news stand the spell was broken. There was the final edition—"Extra-Booze Crazy Man Shot to Death by Wife." The same old world. The new one only endured between editions.

Editorial of the Day

WE SAY "AMEN!"

[Rocky Mountain News.]

THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE has had an awakening, like the Sleeping Giant of the fable, when it awoke, and girds its loins for battle something is going to happen. The newspaper, which until very recently had been wasting its powder and scattering its shot on several objects, announces its concentration on one, a single plank, a single standard platform: "A square deal in congress for the middle west."

The Rocky mountain region, of which the city of Denver is the center, is closer to the middle west than it is to either the Pacific coast or the Atlantic coast, and therefore whatever is of interest to the middle west must be of interest to this state; what ever of genuine good may come to the middle west must be reflected further west. If that wonderful territory which centers in the wonder city of Chicago is given its just due the effect will gradually move westward and we, too, will take on courage and make our legitimate demands upon congress and the ruling powers in New York.

It is contended by THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE that the middle west has been unfairly dealt with by the east, that it is either thrust aside by politicians and interests on the Atlantic seaboard or is thrown a piece of altruistic legislation or a fragment of pork and is expected to be silently thankful. No more of that for the Chicago publication.

It was expected when the agrarian "bloo" was organized in congress some months ago that at last the middle west would come to its own, but in the belief of the Chicago newspaper the "bloo's" accomplishments have been intangible and theoretical in so far as the middle west is concerned, and whatever benefit may have resulted has been mainly to the coddled south.

Colorado is ready to join in the campaign with the middle west for practically all of THE TRIBUNE's program. The people are opposed to free Panama canal tolls to Atlantic and Pacific shipping interests as proposed in congress because the Rocky mountains, joined with the middle states, would have to make up the amounts through increased freight rate charges by the railroads to recoup them in their battle with canal rates. Congress must be reached; the middle western and Rocky mountain delegations must be pledged and placed on record.

PRESIDENT HARDING'S educational week proclamation will not, of course, apply to the father of the pupil whose teacher had asked him how long it would take a certain number of men working nine hours a day to complete a stated job. "Dear Madam," read the father's note to the teacher. "I refuse to let my son do this problem, as it looks to me like a slur on the eight hour day."

He drove my children... into crime... Then I went to my father... I pleaded... for the sake... of other children... to stop... he laughed at me... brutally... shamelessly... I killed him..." "Who was he?" "The moonshine maker..." And the Recording Angel... entered the plea... "Guiltily..." in Eternity's Ledger... But a tear... blotted out the line.

"THE Merriest Christmas Ever" is the Good Fellows motto this year. We were reminded of it when we debarked from the omnibus and encountered an ex-convict. He was cheerfully calling his wares, "Christmas holly, Christmas wreaths. Only ten cents." "The wares were in a basket which he carried in his left hand. His right hand held a cane. His right leg was gone. That's about all."

Needs not a ready bow;
Through torrid deserts he may roam
Nor any peril know.

While rambling far, I lost my way;
The forest was as night;
I breathed a song and lo! a wolf
Sprang forth—but ran in fright.

If I were placed in regions parched,
Without a tree or spring,
While Sol beat upon the rocks
My "Laurel" I'd sing!

PREACHING at Cairo, Ill., an English divine asserted that what made the draft of the League of Nations weak was the exclusion of God. He intimated that if the same exclusion were practiced at Washington the conference would be a failure. We do not know the source of his information, but speaking from experience, we should say that God is much kinder than the gentleman would have us believe. His has allowed our government to exist and prosper despite the fact that it is founded on a constitution in which no reference is made to Him. He is too great to be a Jealous God.

Spectral bascules on beam-ends. Telling tugs snorting disdainfully. Sea-gulls full of fish and curiosity. Staccato rattatatt of riverine like mitraille. Only water swirling past ancient pilings. Alert fuglemen directing delicate antennae of hoists. The brilliant nimbus of an acetylene torch through the dusk of a winter afternoon. Rattle of cable through sheaves. An academic rivet describing a parabola to the stars. A dancer. A river with reverse English. Staid citizens aghast at change in daily routine and routing. Thousands of cheer-cheering diverting policemen. Pall of smoke and fog. Workmen moving in clouds through the darkness. Glowing foremen. Stretched necks regretting distance from scene of action. WINTER FASHION NOTES.
EVA HILL tells of a curate who once called on him dressed as follows:
A llama wool vest, thick woolen shirt, wool lined waistcoat, cardigan jacket, tweed suit, and a wool lined moleskin coat.

Leonard Hill did not go "below the returns," but he took it for granted that his unmentionables were also heavy and of warm materials. In spite of his furnishings, the curate complained constantly of being cold, though the day was about an average midwinter one as found in England.

Says the distinguished British physiologist: "I cannot understand why this guardian of men's souls had permitted—without his perfect heat regulating apparatus to atrophy from disuse. Doubtless from the beginning of his nursery training he had been taught and had taught himself to fear colds and wet feet."

As the result, the man found himself at an age when he should have been in his prime, strong, virile, dominating climates, comfortable wherever put—complaining, cold footed, uncomfortable, subject to colds, inefficient, and unhappy, instead.

Physicians are agreed that the process of hardening can be carried too far. Children can contract colds, sore throat, and pneumonia from too much exposure. On the other hand, coddling dooms a child to a life of discomfort such as the curate was living.

Good judgment lies somewhere in between. In contrast with the English curate, Burgess, swimming the English channel, was in the cold water, without any clothing, for nearly twenty hours. His skin was protected from chilling by a heavy coat of grease and he was exercising actively, but he had no clothing.

Leonard Hill says that a civilized white man is comfortable in still, moderately moist air at 72 degrees. At 59 the air feels cold. At 50 to 54 it feels intensely cold.

The best clothing to protect against cold are loose garments made of wool. The heat conductivity of air being taken as 1, that of wool is 5, of silk 19, of cotton and linen 25.

These figures apply to the fiber itself. The air held in the mesh of the garment is another factor, and even a more important one. Wool has an additional advantage in that the mesh of woolen garments holds a large quantity of air. Much heat is lost through the space around the collar, the wrists, and ankles. Walking pumps hot air out of the trouser legs and cold air into them.

Therefore, Grenfell advised that garments worn in very cold climates be not open at the collar, wrists, and ankles. The jacket is continued into the hood.

fits tight at the wrists, and overlaps the trousers, being drawn close around the body at the bottom. The trousers end in socks, as the corresponding garment in children's nightgowns does, or tuck into the boots.

A garment that makes the skin sweat until it is wet is bad. The sweat makes the garments next to the skin conduct heat and feel cold.

Starved, closely woven garments are objectionable because they promote sweating.

I still have plenty of milk, or seem to have. This baby continues to fret and cry to nurse all the time I am attending to it. Have allowed this just a little, but am afraid it might hurt the little fellow."

REPLY.
It is all right to nurse him. It would be a little better for him to have milk from a mother whose baby is about his age, but the advantage would be trifling. If you have a bountiful supply, feed him. Your milk is far better than cow's milk for him.

GLASSES FOR ASTIGMATISM.
E. V. A. wants to know something about astigmatism.

REPLY.
Astigmatism is a condition of the eye through which the light passes normally has a shape adapted to its work. If the curves are too sharp or too flat the eye is not sighted or far sighted. If the curves are uneven, a little too sharp in one place and a little too flat in another, the rays of light which penetrate the cornea are bent unevenly. That condition is known as astigmatism.

In most instances the eyeball just grew that way. Perhaps some ascertainable cause makes it grow that way in some cases. The remedy is wearing glasses round so that the combination of lens of glass and lens of eye bends the rays properly.

CITY HALL DENIES CROWE CONTROL OF POLICE DETAIL

Ordinance Sidetracked on Ettelson Opinion.

Faced by the necessity of a decision on the gambling law between the city hall and State's Attorney Crowe yesterday, the council finance committee nimbly sidestepped the question before it, sending the Shaffer ordinance, demanded by Mr. Crowe to strengthen his arm in his fight on vice and gambling, to a subcommittee.

The committee's action was taken to be a victory for Ettelson, as several of the aldermen who voted to shelve the proposed ordinance, giving Mr. Crowe full control over the police assigned to its office, openly forecast that it will pass and die in the subcommittee.

The finance committee, however, directed the subcommittee to be composed of six aldermen, three from the finance and three from the police committee, to attempt to frame a compromise ordinance acceptable to both Chief Fitzmorris and Mr. Crowe. This task is regarded as difficult if not impossible.

Aldermen Attack Crowe
A feature of the stormy session was an attack on Mr. Crowe by Ald. John Powers and James B. Bowl of the Nineteenth ward, who cast aspersions on Mr. Crowe's conduct of the trial of Angelo Genna for the murder of Paul Labadie, one of Ald. Power's precinct captains. Genna was acquitted.

In answer to their criticism Mr. Crowe issued a hot reply last night. He said:

"The old gray wolf, John Powers, and his protégé, Jim Bowl, appear daily to have got religion. The fact that I have named Powers on the blacklist and will permit him to sign a bond for three and pickpockets as he us to do may account for his present ability to the present state's attorney.

Ettelson Paves Way.
It was the fluency of administration adherence on the committee, unleashed by opinion from Corporation Counsel Ettelson declaring that the Shaffer ordinance, if passed, would be illegal, which turned the tide against Mr. Crowe.

After the opinion had been read Mr. Crowe are and said:

"This union leads me to one certain conclusion, and that is that the city administration is playing politics, cheap politics, with a subject which should be left out of politics, namely, the enforcement of laws relating to the protection of life and property in this city."

"My opinion shows," continued Mr. Crowe, "that the city administration is utterly committed to the proposition that only will it refuse to close dive and gambling joints through its office department, but it will not permit the state's attorney to do so."

It may be that no administration, no chief of police, is big enough to paralyze the arm of the state's attorney, who will go out and make these raids himself if it proves necessary."

Ald. Powers broke in on Mr. Crowe's speech.

"You have made a flowery talk," he replied. "If all that is true why don't you take it before the grand jury and have the mayor and the chief in dicted?" he demanded.

"I have not charged the mayor or chief with protecting these places directly," Mr. Crowe answered. "I have no power to impeach them for failure to do their duty."

Mr. Crowe was asked how many gambling joints the city administration permits to operate.

"About two hundred," he replied. "It is only profitable to permit about two or three hundred to run. If there was gambling in every store there would be no profit for interested parties."

In spite of Mr. Ettelson's opinion, Chief Fitzmorris said last night he will not remove the policemen from Mr. Crowe's office.

"I gave them to him and he can keep them as long as they are used for legitimate police work," the chief said.

NEW
RESTAURANT
(Self-Service)

Holiday Shoppers

Stenographers, Bookkeepers, Salespeople and Office Workers, Attention!

YOU have demonstrated a keen sense of economy by responding so generously to our announcement of greatly "lowered luncheon prices"; it proves clearly that you appreciate the high quality of food served in the new Winter Garden, at prices easily within reach of the most modest purse. As our volume increases, costs automatically decrease—and this makes it quite possible for you to secure an excellent luncheon for as little as 25c or 30c, and enjoy it amid the most delightful surroundings afforded by any restaurant in Chicago.

BECAUSE of our excellent food and radically reduced luncheon prices, business is exceptionally big from 12 o'clock on. If you could possibly arrange to have your luncheon, say at eleven or eleven-thirty, you'd probably find it much more convenient. However, this is but a polite suggestion, and we are delighted to have you come at any hour you wish.

MENT OF THE ANTI-MORON CAMPAIGN.

ago, Dec. 2—I have been noticing a great deal of interest your article on the moron evil, or what people intelligently could be called dementia precox evil. In line with articles let me recall to you the information which you published at the time but doubtless have

February State's Attorney Crowe conference to consider crime. The members of that conference have in your files, but among others Corporation Counsel, Chief Justice O'Connell, and attorney for the conference, were recommended to the one of which, house bill 66, provided for the segregation of all defectives with criminal propensities. All the members of the conference considered that bill constitutional, and the judiciary committee by a vote of 23 to 2. It passed the house unanimously with the exception of one

It passed the senate unanimously. This legislation if it was in effect would render absolutely impossible such a thing as a bunch of strike-breakers organized to protect capital.

THE PUBLIC WILL JUDGE.
ana, Ill., Dec. 1—I noticed a very and garbled letter in the Voice of the People yesterday from Chas. W. Villard's remarks of the Legion in Kansas City. All I or any other man has to say is that Mr. Villard did not call them harsh enough.

How is it that you will not print letters that come to your office that tell the truth about the Legion? They are a bunch of strike-breakers organized to protect capital.

THE CHILDREN AND GEORGE WASHINGTON

More Entries in the Race for $11,650 in The Tribune's Prizes for School Children and Teachers.

Here are more of the essays by boys and girls entered in the George Washington prize contest being conducted by The Tribune. The contest closes on Washington's birthday, Feb. 22.

His Name an Inspiration.

George Washington! That name inspires poets to write of him and artists to paint the grand, strong face of him. It flamed forth like a torch lighting the darkness and ignorance of his age.

He was born Feb. 22, 1732, in his ancestral home, Mount Vernon, and on the dawn of the anniversary of that day each true American should rejoice.

Men have tried ever since he lived to describe the great soul of the man, and his love for the boundless country of which he was the first president. He was a father in the true sense of the word, for his great heart encompassed with love rich and poor alike. When he died in 1799 the whole country was bowed with grief at the death of him who had been "first in war, first in peace, and first in the hearts of countrymen."

EVANGELINE M. SHORT,

Age 13. Eighth grade, St. Ignace school.
Teacher, Mother Mary Leonard.

Ideal Man of History.

He never told a lie. This saying may not be all truth, but it matters little if one wants to know the real Washington.

Washington, in a sense, is like Portia. She is the ideal woman of literature, but Washington is the ideal man of history.

He had means and many luxuries. He left them all to fight for his country and cause. He went barefooted in the middle of winter, and suffered like the other men of his company. He used his money to buy food for them, and also paid their salaries. It was he, men went to for aid or assistance because they knew that he could be trusted.

His name, Washington, is on the lips of every American citizen. Whenever I hear that name it means so much to me, and it should mean much to every one. Words alone cannot tell of this great man who did so much for his country.

THEODORE LEONE,

Age 13. First year, John Marshall High school.

Showed Wonderful Foresight.

All that Washington, "father of his country," did during the revolution and after the revolution was bound up in our national life, and became interwoven with the warp of our national destiny.

The battles he fought were fought for American liberty, and the battles he won gave us national independence. His example of unselfish consecration and lofty patriotism made manifest that those virtues were conditions not more vital to our nation's beginning than to its development and durability.

His faith in God, and the fortitude of his faith, taught those for whom he fought that the surest strength of nations comes from the support of God's almighty arm.

Washington's universal and unaffected sympathy with those in every sphere of American life, his thorough knowledge of existing American conditions, and his wonderful foresight of conditions yet to be, coupled with his powerful influence in the councils of those who were to make or mar the fate of an infant nation, made him a tremendous factor in the construction and adoption of the constitutional chart by which the course of the new

PREMIER BEATEN, CANADA LIBERALS WIN PARLIAMENT

Montreal, Que., Dec. 6.—[Special.]—Canada has revolted against the "era of extravagance" charged by the Liberal party and has overthrown the Conservative government. The Liberals have obtained a working majority without the necessity of coalition with the Progressive (farmers) party.

Premier Meighen at 11 o'clock tonight admitted defeat. He was beaten in his own constituency.

W. L. MACKENZIE KING, of Portage La Prairie, Man., and William Lyon Mackenzie King, Liberal leader, has been elected in York county, Ont. Minister of Labor Robertson also concedes the overthrow of the government.

At least six cabinet ministers have been defeated, and even in Montreal three seats, two of them formerly held by cabinet ministers, have gone over to Liberals.

Returns at midnight gave the Liberals 109 seats in the new parliament; government, 42; Farmers, 33; Labor, 2.

The result is of some importance to Americans as the Liberals are understood to favor revision of tariff downwards. They do not, however, in spite of Premier Meighen's declaration that the issue was a straight one of "protection versus free trade," intend to institute the latter policy.

Several of the most prominent Liberals have pronounced themselves in favor of protection, and Quebec province, which has returned a solid flock of Liberals, is strongly protectionist.

New Liberal members include Sir Lomer Gouin, former prime minister of Quebec, and Walter Mitchell, former provincial treasurer.

During the last few days the issue of railway nationalization came strongly to the fore and the result indicates that Canadians are opposed to government ownership of railways and its attendant burden of taxation to meet deficiency.

Northwestern "L" Car Jumps Rails; None Hurt

Thirty-five passengers in a northbound Wilson avenue train on the Northwestern L were shaken up last night when the first car of the train jumped from the rails at the south approach to the new Wells street bridge. Traffic was tied up for several minutes. No one was hurt.

DOCTORS FIGHT DR. LORENZ' BID TO MILWAUKEE

Milwaukee, Wis., Dec. 6.—[Special.]—The proposed visit of Dr. Adolph Lorenz, Austrian surgeon, invited to Milwaukee by Mayor Hoan in the face of opposition by the doctors of the city, has developed into a controversy which may split the Milwaukee County Medical society when it meets Thursday.

Dr. Horace M. Brown, who has just returned from an extensive European tour, and a leader in the fight to prevent Dr. Lorenz from coming here, declared tonight that "better work is being done right here than any foreign physician ever thought of doing."

Dr. J. J. Seelman, the society's president, has sided with the group opposing the Austrian's visit. Mayor Hoan, on the other hand, has assured Dr. Lorenz that he would personally assist him in aiding deformed children. Doctors say the invitation should have come from professional sources.

Dr. Lorenz, who has been practicing in Vienna for 25 years, is a specialist in the treatment of deformed children.

DEFENSE RESTS CASE ON "BABY GUY'S" PATERNITY

Stillman Hearing to Be Resumed in Canada.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Dec. 6.—(Special.)—After three defense witnesses announced that he rested his case on the issue of Guy's paternity, but would introduce Canadian evidence to further offset the allegation against Mrs. Stillman.

GUY STILLMAN.

Counsel for both sides agreed to begin hearings in Montreal Jan. 11, to take the evidence of about thirty witnesses, discovered by Fred K. Beauchamp, Indian guide and correspondent.

No Cross Examinations.
None of the witnesses who were on the stand today was cross examined by Mr. Stillman's counsel.

The attorneys also indicated they would not oppose the application for a Canadian commission when the defense files it with Supreme Court Justice Morschauser at Poughkeepsie next Saturday.

The first witness today was Mary J. Sullivan. She is a cook and was hired by Stillman on Dec. 11, 1917, to aid the regular chef at Pleasantville, N. Y., the Stillman country place in Westchester county. The period of her employment enabled her to give testimony relating to happenings in early 1918 and has an important bearing on the attack on Guy.

Under questioning she said that a

VICTIM

MISS MARTHA LEI SMITH.

The Town Hall police are searching for a man who attacked Miss Martha Lei Smith, 1067 Ainslie street, while she was alone in the Dearborn Cab company office at 755 Waveland avenue yesterday. The assailant knocked the girl unconscious with a revolver.

few days before the Stillman family went to New York to live at the Hotel St. Regis—some time early in February, 1918, as near as she could recollect it—she remembered seeing Mr. Stillman around the house. This was in opposition to Mr. Stillman's evidence which has been to prove that he never visited the country place during a period immediately before the birth of Guy.

Tells of "Mr. and Mrs. Leeds."
The second witness who gave evidence on the divorce issue was Mary J. Farney, trained nurse, who said she had been hired by "Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Harold Leeds" in June, 1918, at Rest Court, Stony Brook, L. I. It is charged that Stillman as "Leeds" maintained the Long Island place as a home for Florence H. Lawlor, former chorus girl.

The last witness was Mabel Young Thorne, a Negro maid, who testified that Mrs. Leeds called Mr. Stillman "Jimmie," and that they "were very affectionate."

OLD ORDER RULES IN CASINO CLUB'S ANNUAL ELECTION

"For you are right, and I am right, and everything is quite correct," said members of the Casino club yesterday at their annual business meeting and election which put in the straight ticket, headed by Mrs. Joseph G. Coleman, as president. There was no organized opposition from the "bolshie" element, who were reported to be preparing a list of officers all their own.

Mrs. Coleman's reelection is taken as an indication that the old order at the club has not passed away and that whiskey dances, wild parties, and younger set indiscretions are a thing of the past.

Author of Inquiry.
It was Mrs. Coleman who started investigation of the recent party in which members of the younger set, debutantes of a few years back, with some of the younger men, so conducted themselves as to force this year's debutantes to leave the club.

Other officers elected on the regular ticket are: Vice president, Honore Palmer; secretary, Barrett Wendell Jr.; treasurer, George A. Ranney; governors, Mrs. Charles G. Cushing, Mrs. Noble B. Judah, Miss Caroline Kirkland, Miss Muriel McCormick, Mrs. Earle H. Reynolds, Harry Cutting Beste, Colin C. H. Fyffe, Howard F. Gillette, Arthur Meeker, William H. Mitchell II., and Chas. M. McCormick.

"Everything is in order and set for a good year," said Mrs. Coleman last night. "The voting was regular, and heavy. There was no indication of any opposition, no disturbance of any kind. Everything is harmonious, very."

Heavy Vote Is Cast.
Arthur Meeker and Barrett Wendell Jr., refused to comment upon the election, the club's policy for the future or any occurrences of the past.

"There was an unusually heavy vote today," a board member said. "Many turned out today who rarely attend the club's meeting. They came to show their faith in the present administration and to testify to their cooperation with the board in carrying through this year's program."

"Repairs on the clubhouse have been made so promptly," said one officer, "that you would never know there had been a recent fire."

"Club affairs have been adjusted so smoothly," said another, "that you would never know there had been a recent scandal."

COURT ASKS CITY FOR 5 CENT FARE EVIDENCE TODAY

Eight Requests for 'Facts'
Ignored by Cleveland.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

Chester E. Cleveland, for the city administration, is scheduled to show Federal Judges Baker, Carpenter, and Page today what evidence he presented to the Illinois commerce commission which justified a 5 cent street car fare. The companies charge that rate is confiscatory and the judges are to decide that question.

Judge Baker, as spokesman, asked Cleveland eight times, at least, to present his evidence.

"Go ahead and tell us the facts," urged the judge at the last hearing, when later pleaded, "Present what the facts are," and still later, "Bring your witnesses in and we will hear them."

"I am not ready today," Cleveland said, "to present my evidence. If I am not ready today, it will be seen whether Mr. Cleveland produces George W. Jackson, one of the city administration's principal witnesses before the commerce commission.

The commission has filed its statement, indicating upon what reasoning it entered the 5 cent order. That statement is a wage cut. Mr. Cleveland has not announced whether he will oppose that, urge its adoption, or remain neutral on that subject.

The judge may ask for more light upon city's exhibit No. 11, which Mr. Cleveland says was presented to the commerce commission to show that the franchise contracts of the companies are profitable as a whole. If a 5 cent fare is now enforced. This exhibit shows that on a 5 cent fare the companies would fall to pay operating expenses by $5,373,560 annually for the next five years at the present rate of expenditures.

"With respect to exhibit 11," asked Judge Baker, "was it the legal theory that, because stockholders in the past may have received dividends—who may be now dead and gone—that stockholders from now on until 1927 were therefore legally compelled to sustain a loss of $5,000,000 a year?"

Why this exhibit was presented by the lawyer advocating a 5 cent fare has not been explained even by members of the commerce commission.

The council local transportation committee listened to several citizens yesterday on the need of rapid transit in Chicago. Charles E. Fox, architect, said that upper Michigan avenue is sorely in need of transportation facilities. He predicted that this district will be considered part of the downtown business section within three years.

Francis M. Case, real estate, urged a subway which will give values to bankrupt real estate between 22d and 38th streets. Frederick Delser showed motion pictures of one suspended monorail system, and Ernest Roeder spoke in favor of another monorail plan.

The committee later took a motor bus ride in the loop. The purpose was to decide whether the buses shall be limited to the boulevards. A subcommittee headed by Ald. Wallace will make its recommendation later.

Chicago's "Santa Claus" Leaves $52,000 Estate

The late John M. Hubbard, known in the postoffice as the "Poor Children's Santa Claus," left an estate of $52,000, according to the table of assets filed in the Probate court yesterday. His son, John M. Hubbard Jr., was named as executor and filed the inventory. Each year Mr. Hubbard received thousands of "Santa Claus" letters at the postoffice from poor children. He had a large list of persons who desired to be "Santas" and furnished the names of the poor to them.

Great glass company cuts costs with L.B.'s help

THE Macbeth-Evans Glass Co., Pittsburgh, Pa., was suffering costly delays and unnecessary expenses because its filing system had not expanded with the business.

The filing department was working day and night, trying to keep up with increased business. The periodic task of transferring occupied two to three long, weary months; and it was always necessary to call in extra assistants.

L.B. called in to help

In January, 1914, the climax was reached. This manufacturer called in Library Bureau. The L.B. Analysis Department, which is maintained to meet just such problems, analyzed the needs of the business, making due allowance for future expansion.

Then it recommended the L.B. Automatic Index, recognized as the one notable development made in filing in recent years. This system, an exclusive L.B. idea, makes it easier for the file clerk to file correctly than incorrectly. It makes quick work of filing. It makes finding, too, a swift, sure operation.

What L.B. service accomplished

The L.B. Automatic Index showed actual time and money savings as follows:

- 1—Night work was at once abolished.
- 2—The much-dreaded 3 months' task of transferring was reduced to a 3 days' job.
- 3—The expense of extra assistants for this transfer work was eliminated.

4—Although the Macbeth-Evans Glass Co.'s business has increased, the L.B. Automatic Index met the increased filing needs without increasing the number of operators.

L.B. can help you

L.B. can show you how to save time, labor and money in your filing department. It can show you how to turn your filed facts into active business producers. It can show you how to take full advantage of your present equipment; how to use costly office space to maximum advantage.

That done, Library Bureau can supply you with every filing and record need—filing and record keeping systems; steel and wood cabinets; and guides, folders and cards for every purpose.

A new idea in filing

Business today is taking a brand new thought from the completeness of L.B. service. Business men everywhere are discovering that L.B. is turning files and records into business builders. This means that sales and other departments work more efficiently and that costly space, time and labor are conserved.

Let an L.B. salesman show you

Library Bureau's service department will gladly furnish free analysis service on any problem, large or small, connected with filing or record keeping.

Call in a representative today—no obligation.

The Tribune prints more want advertising than all other Chicago papers combined

THIS is not merely because The Tribune leads in circulation, but because millions of people (including even those who do not read The Tribune regularly) recognize this great Want Ad Section as the most efficient market in which to buy or sell services, autos, real estate, household goods, etc., etc., etc.

If a Man Buy a Saw -

That Holds Its Edge, Cuts Well, Fits His Hand and Balances Just Right, He Develops a Feeling of Friendship for That Particular Saw and Will Use No Other. When It Wears Out He Buys One Just Like It

THE success of any product, whether that product be a saw, a pound of sugar or a newspaper, depends upon the consumers' (or readers') opinion of it. Hence it follows that the ultimate success of any product or any newspaper depends upon the merit of the article itself.

When a manufacturer sells goods on which he has placed his mark of identity (his brand) or publishes a newspaper with his name nailed to its masthead he identifies it. He fixes his own responsibility.

If he wants to make his business permanent and successful he maintains right quality always and if he fails to do this, his first sale will be his last.

A newspaper, like any commodity, varies in quality and value accordingly as the man or men back of it set a standard. The consumer may buy the first time on chance but the next time he buys on satisfaction.

Each year an increasing number of the dominant industries of America, who have sought and are seeking the patronage of Philadelphians and Pennsylvanians for their product, have placed their advertising in the Public Ledger because with its quality circulation of more than 250,000 daily it wins distribution and sales for their product.

COURT PAVES WAY FOR NONPARTISAN JUDGES IN JUNE

BY E. O. PHILLIPS.

Nonpartisan election of judges next June loomed large yesterday following two important appellate court decisions, written by Justice Albert C. Barnes and concurred in by Justice Martin M. Bradley.

In cases taken up by the Chicago bar association, the state supreme court will be asked to decide whether the "old" or "new" committee is entitled to nominate Republican candidates for the superior court judgeships at the June election. This will be an appeal from yesterday's decision, in what is known as the "Brady case," that the office of "ward committeeman" is not a "public office" and that quo warranto was not the proper proceeding by which to attack the legality of the city hall committee.

In the "Litsinger case," also decided yesterday, the court held that Edward J. Litsinger has the right to sit in the Republican county committee as committeeman from the old Fifth ward, although he moved to the Twenty-first ward. The city hall machine had attacked Mr. Litsinger and by implication, Thomas J. Healy and Edward J. Brundage, whose situations are similar.

The decision gives to the combined Brundage-Brundage Republicans unquestioned control of the "old" county committee.

PLAN TEN ACRE PLAYGROUND FOR NORTH SIDERS

River Park District Condemns Land.

BY AL CHASE.

A ten acre park is what Santa plans to stick in the stocking of the residents who live in the River Park district, that part of Chicago bounded by Belmont, Devon, Western and Kedzie. As a result of condemnation proceedings the park board has acquired from the Illinois Brick company for $16,000 the property bounded by Irving Park boulevard, Byron, Campbell and Rockwell.

This will be made into a first class playground with ball diamonds, tennis courts, sand piles for the youngsters and later on a field house will be built. The proposed widening of Indiana avenue from 12th to 22d is given as the reason for the purchase by the E. L. Mansure company from Dr. Walter S. Barnes and Lucile R. Bigelow of the 70x177 vacant adjoining its factory at the southeast corner of Indiana and 16th for an indicated $50,000. Willis & Frankenstein were brokers.

Buy South Side Acre.
John B. Foote of the Foote Bros. Gear and Machine company has bought from Walter B. Jordan of Minneapolis thirty-five acres at the southwest corner of West 65th and South Keeler for a tract of $32,000. It adjoins a tract of seventy acres already owned by Mr. Foote south of 63d and east of the Belt line. Both were bought for investment. Malcolm C. Parker, Roy L. Belcher and Clyde A. Douglas were brokers.

Two Loop Leases.
The Florsheim Shoe company has renewed its lease on the shop at 18 East Jackson boulevard through Willis & Frankenstein for ten years from May 1, 1923, at a reported term rental of $110,000, which is understood to be at a considerable advance.

The Bedford Shirt company has leased the 16x44 shop at 18 East Monroe street to Philip Solomon and Sam A. Mendelson from Dec. 1 to April 30, 1922, at a reported term rental of $45,500, or $11.98 a square foot. They will operate a coffee shop. Joseph O. Kaplan and Hetter & Wells were brokers.

OFFICIAL WEATHER FORECAST

The official forecast for today and tomorrow and yesterday's table of records follow:

CALL MEETING TO FIGHT "BOTTLING UP" COOK COUNTY

Cook county citizens who object to the proposed restriction of representation of the county in the Illinois legislature, through a new constitution, have been invited to assemble in mass meeting at the City club, in Plymouth court, at 3 p. m., Dec. 13. The announced purpose is to take such steps as may be found proper to combat the downstate attempt to bottle up Chicago and its immediate suburbs for legislative purposes.

The constitutional convention is due to meet again at Springfield on Jan. 3. Before it is a proposal to limit Cook county forever to its present nineteen members in the state senate.

Doctor at 82 Finds Mothers Prefer His Formula to New-Fangled Salts And Coal Tar Remedies for Babies

Judgment of 1892 vindicated by world's approval of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, a simple vegetable compound for constipation—So safe thousands give it to babies in arms—Now has largest sale in the world.

WHEN a man is in the 83rd year of his age, as I am, there are certain things he has learned that only time can teach him. The basis of treating sickness has not changed since I left Medical College in 1875, nor since I placed on the market the laxative prescription I had used in my practice, known to druggists and the public since 1892, as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

From a recent portrait of Dr. W. B. CALDWELL, Founder of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, Born Shelbyville, Mo., 1859

Then the treatment of constipation, biliousness, headaches, mental depression, indigestion, sour stomach and other indispositions that result from constipation was entirely by means of simple vegetable laxatives, herbs and roots. These are still the basis of my Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which is a combination of Egyptian Senna and other mild laxative herbs with pepsin.

Recently new medicines have been brought out for constipation that contain calomel, which is mercury, salts of various kinds, minerals, and coal tar. These are all drastic purges, many of them dangerous, and the medical profession ple want to use them no one can deny them the privilege, but they should never be given to children.

The simpler the remedy for constipation, the safer for the child and for you, and the better for the general health of all. And as you can get results in a mild and safe way by using Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, why take chances with pills and powders and strong drugs, even if disguised in candy? My remedy, too, costs less than most others, only about a cent a dose. A bottle such as you can find in any drug store, will last a family several months, and all can use it. It is good for the babe in arms because pleasant to the taste, gentle in action, and free from narcotics. In the proper dose, given in the directions, it is equally effective at all ages. Elderly people will find it especially ideal.

The formula of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is on the cover of every bottle, and the ingredients have the endorsement of the U. S. Pharmacopoeia.

Everyone Wants These Features Only GMC Owners Have Them

When you own a GMC you profit by the experience, the resources and the national service of one of the great leaders in the industry.

And, in addition, you profit from these GMC features far in advance of the times: Removable Cylinder Walls, Removable Valve Lifter Assemblies, Dual Cooling, Superheated Carburetion, Centrifugal Fly-ball Governor and Special Process Connecting Rod Bearing.

It is not enough to know what these improvements are nor what they do for others—what they will do for you is the important thing.

Any GMC dealer will gladly explain their technical details—any GMC owner will proudly tell you of their practical advantages—how they increase ability to give service, and at the same time show very real savings by the mile, day and year.

Let your GMC dealer tell you of the recent price reduction of $500 on the K-16 one ton truck and substantial reductions throughout the entire line from 3/4 to 5 ton capacity which give you these greater advancements at prices seldom equalled.

Then, you will surely regard GMC trucks as the soundest investment you can possibly make.

JURY INQUIRY IN CIVIL SERVICE ABUSES OPENED

City Hall Fund Raising to Get Attention.

Grand jury investigation of the charges of irregularities made by the Civil Service Reform association is a gain at the Thompson-Lundin administration of the civil service began yesterday afternoon.

A special grand jury was sworn by Judge M. L. McKinley. After giving the jurors definite instructions, the jurist ordered them to report to the special courtroom assigned to them in the county building and ordered Assistant State's Attorney George E. Gorman to proceed with the investigation immediately.

Echo of Judicial Election.

The charges against the Thompson-Lundin forces were first made during the judicial campaign of last June. Attorney Russell Whitman, of the reform association, discovered, he said, that the city civil service commission had been invaded by the politicians and that "the old time spoils system" was again in vogue.

It was charged that civil service employees were being forced to go into the campaign for the Thompson ticket, that funds were being collected from the city employees who were under the civil service laws, that promotions had been "bought," and that the entire system of protection for municipal wage earners was in danger of being wiped out.

Recall Riverview Jubilee.

The famous Riverview Jubilee ticket selling was brought to light and the reform association alleged every city worker had been forced to buy many tickets to the party so that the coffers

The reason for the change in address is that they are going to be married tonight to John and Gilsomino Michelette, brothers, who live at the Wood street address. John is a contractor and his brother works for him. We would say this was quite a family affair.

of the Thompson-Lundin party might be filed.

Attorney Whitman took his complaints to State's Attorney Crowe. Mr. Crowe immediately granted a request for a special grand jury investigation and assigned Mr. Gorman to turn a "searchlight" upon the commission and the administration.

Judge McKinley, himself one of the founders of the civil service commission, questioned each jury separately to determine his qualifications.

Appeals for Witnesses.

Judge McKinley said he hoped any one in the city who knew of violations would go to the grand jury, and tell their story.

German Trial Reveals a Strange Murder.

BY GEORGE SELDES.
[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
[Copyright, 1921, By The Chicago Tribune.]

BERLIN, Dec. 6.—All Germany is stirred up over two sensational murder cases, exceptional even among the numerous sensational murders which have been increasing annually since the war. One case involves hypnotic influence and millions and the other medieval superstition.

The latter tragedy occurred in Lowenburg, a Pomeranian village, where three old women becoming jealous of the charms of a young dreamer named Elsie Wallstein, deceived the girl into the country and told her that she was possessed of a devil which must be driven out by fire.

The three women stripped Fraulein Wallstein, brought faggots, started a fire, forced the girl into the flames and, like the witches in Shakespeare's Macbeth, the three old women stood around the fire praying for Beelzebub to leave the body. The girl was burned to death.

Kills Heiress to Millions.

In Kleppeldorf castle, the other tragedy occurred. A debonaire young architect named Peter Grupe is alleged to have killed his niece Dorothy Rohrbach, an heiress to millions and the castle. It is charged that he also killed his stepdaughter Ursula, and planned the murder of his mother-in-law, who was the grandmother of both the victims.

The case hinges on a letter that Ursula was supposed to have written confessing Dorothy's murder and announcing her own suicide. Witnesses testified that Grupe frequently used hypnotic influence and that he hypnotized Ursula into writing the letter and then murdered both the heiresses.

Wife in America?

At today's hearing the judge asked about the disappearance of Grupe's wife, who Grupe said went to America as an actress.

Field Marshal Ludendorff and a dozen generals and admirals will be witnesses at the treason trial tomorrow of Berlin's police president, Von Jagow, who is accused of participating in the Kapp monarchist revolution. The trial promises a test of strength between the republicans and monarchists in Germany.

JAPAN PUTS O. K. ON FOUR-POWER ENTENTE, REPORT

BY CHARLES DAILEY.
(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
(Copyright, 1921, By The Chicago Tribune.)
TOKIO, Dec. 6.—Although not officially announced it is generally believed here that the diplomatic advisory council this afternoon, following a cabinet session, approved not only the Hughes naval limitation proposals but also the virtual agreement for a quadruple entente. The latter question is regarded as having succeeded all the other problems in importance, and when it is worked out it is felt that it will insure the peace of the Pacific as well as the eventual stabilization of China.

It is reported that instructions have been sent to Baron Kato at Washington to do all possible to bring the plans for the entente to a successful conclusion. The entente is regarded as necessary in view of Australia and Japan having acquired mandates in the South Seas.

The question of fortifications naturally disappears under the entente. This is pleasing to Japan since it means a continuation of the status quo with the exception that the United States is not bound to put any limit on the Hawaiian defenses.

The United States stand regarding the Hawaiian defenses has been apparent to Japan from the outset and in all sane discussion of fortifications the view has been accepted that America had the right to reserve a free hand in the islands.

MYSTERY OF VAST AUSTRALIA GRAIN BUYING IS SOLVED

U. S., Not Jap Interests, Purchase Wheat.

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.
The United States and not Japan has been the big buyer of Australian wheat in the last few weeks. This was confirmed late yesterday and it is understood Chicago grain firms handled the details of the business.

According to those in a position to know the wheat will go to the famine stricken districts of Russia via the trans-Siberian railroad and Japan had nothing to do with the purchases, except possibly to act as brokers for American interests.

There are two stories regarding the transaction; the first, and what is regarded as most probable, is that the money to finance the grain was advanced by New York or Pittsburgh interests in return for commercial concessions from the Soviet government, and the other that the latter paid cash for the wheat.

15,000,000 Bushels in Deal.
It is conservatively estimated that 15,000,000 bushels of Australian or other wheat has been bought for shipment to Russia Pacific coast ports, now under Japanese control. Others estimate the amount at 25,000,000 bushels.

The rumors that Japan was preparing for war, based on purchases of unusually large quantities of wheat not only in Australia but also in the United States and Canada, was first circulated in grain trade circles several months ago. It was investigated and proven to be unfounded.

Recently it was revived, however, by claims that Japan had been drawing down large credit balances in this country, with rumors of shipments of munitions from Canada to the orient.

Owing to the shortage in the wheat and rice crops Japan has been a free buyer of wheat in the world's markets. Between the United States purchases for Russia and the actual Japanese buying as high as 40,000,000 to 50,000,000 bushels have been mentioned.

Shortage of Rice Crop.
Statisticians, however, believe Japan does not require over 20,000,000 to 25,000,000 bushels of wheat unless the rice crop is much smaller than reported. While Japan normally uses far more rice than wheat, the high price of the former caused the purchase of wheat. A growers' pool was partly responsible for the high price of rice.

It was regarded as simply a coincidence that J. D. Rockefeller Jr. arrived in the United States from China about the same time the big wheat purchases commenced to attract attention.

"I am glad the Japanese war rumor has been quieted," said Joseph P. Griffith, president of the board of trade. "Practically all recent reports have indicated that part of the wheat believed to have been purchased by Japan would ultimately find its way into Russia."

WEALTH OF U. S. STILL UNTAPPED IS 150 BILLIONS

Washington, D. C., Dec. 6.—An unexplored wealth estimated at a minimum of $150,000,000,000, is contained in the more than 400,000,000 acres of land now in the public domain, Secretary Fall of the interior department says in his first annual report, made public today.

Coal and oil form the bulk of this wealth, the total coal deposits being estimated at 110,000,000,000 tons, and oil deposits at 1,225,000,000 barrels, with an additional 50,000,000 barrels of oil.

From the development of these resources the federal government, Secretary Fall says, would realize by way of royalties, rentals, etc., a total of $1,500,000,000, divided as follows:

Wealth in Coal.

Coal in public ownership—Bittuminous, 10,000,000,000 tons at 10 cents royalty, $1,000,000,000.

Subbituminous, 30,000,000,000 tons at 10 cents royalty, $3,000,000,000.

National forests: Grazing land, 110,000,000 acres at $4, $275,000,000.

Timber, $580,000,000.

Other resources, $145,000,000.

"History is now repeating itself," says Secretary Fall, "and after a period of unlimited expenditure in war measures and in preparing for war, in the creation of a navy, etc., it has been found necessary to curtail such expenditures to the very utmost. I am justified in calling attention to the fact that the department of interior—the home department—is fully equipped and prepared to do its part in the development of these great national resources which must be so developed if the tax burden upon this and future generations is to be borne at all."

The United States navy uses but 4 per cent of the country's fuel oil production, so that the curtailment of the navy would affect the industry only slightly, he added.

OIL MEN SCOFF AT EXHAUSTION OF GAS SUPPLY

Go ahead and buy that flivver or the Rolls-Royce if all that's standing in the way is a fear of the exhaustion of the world's supply of gasoline. There's enough to last for the next hundred years.

Thomas A. O'Donnell of Los Angeles, president of the American Petroleum Institute, smiled at the pessimistic views of "well meaning and conscientious scientists" and "able writers with a free use of mathematics," who say the demands of industry will drain the world's oil supply in a generation.

Improvements in the processes of cracking down petroleum into gas line, and billions of barrels of oil from pools yet undiscovered, will offset increased consumption, Mr. O'Donnell said.

The United States navy uses but 4 per cent of the country's fuel oil production, so that the curtailment of the navy would affect the industry only slightly, he added.

GOLFERS ADOPT UNIFORM SYSTEM FOR HANDICAPS

BY JOE DAVIS.

Coincident with the mangle of the Irish problem yesterday, the Chicago District Golf association at its annual meeting at the Chicago Athletic association last night ironed out the problem of a standard handicap system.

By a unanimous vote of the delegates of twenty-four clubs represented, it was decided to adopt the system outlined by the executive committee of the C. D. G. A. The clubs not represented are expected to fall in line.

President Norman C. Naylor, in presenting the plan, said the system proposed already was in use at the majority of the clubs, with minor variations. The main point is the taking of the average for the five best scores, deducting the par of the course, and taking 80 per cent of the difference.

Rating Plan Adopted.

Most argument arose over the ratings to be given at the start of the year, as a number of the clubs followed different methods. The plan of the C. D. G. A. is to take the handicaps of the previous season as the basis for the new handicaps and then raise them by the following additions:

Class A. (11 strokes and under)—add 2 strokes.
Class B. (12 to 17)—add 3 strokes.
Class C. (18 to 24)—add 4 strokes.
Class D. (25 to 30)—add 5 strokes.
The few delegates who had objection to some of the plan, agreed in the interest of uniformity.

The report of Treasurer Morris Wolf of the Lake Shore club showed a balance in the fund of $892.

Regular Ticket Elected.

The regular ticket, to which there was no opposition, was elected as follows:

President—Norman C. Naylor, Westwoodland.
Vice president—Paul C. Leiber, Edgewater.
Treasurer—Morris Wolf, Lake Shore.
Secretary—Joseph G. Davis, K. Goble, V. W. Foster.

District west—E. L. Harig, L. B. Vanstine, A. E. McCord, C. L. Garrett.
District north—K. A. Gardner, Ontarioville.
District south—R. W. Childs, C. C. Hopkins.

Good Work Accomplished.

Former President Robert Hunter and Charles L. West spoke on the good work accomplished by the association.

The executive committee will meet early in February, when the matter of paying caddies by the round instead of by the hour will be discussed. This method is now in use in the Metropolitan district.

W. VA. CLUB GETS WOMEN'S GOLF TITLE TOURNEY

New York, Dec. 6.—The 1922 national women's golf championship will be played at the Greenbrier club, White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., the week of Sept. 25, it was announced tonight by the United States Golf association.

The national open championship will be held at the Skokie club, Glenview, Ill., probably in July. Considering that the British open at the St. George's course, Sandwich, will not end until June 25, the United States Golf association event could not well be held earlier than the middle of July if hopes for the competition of Britishers are considered.

The amateur championship at the Country club, Brookline, Mass., will be held either the first or second week in September.

GASOLINE ALLEY—SON AND HEIR AND A LITTLE RAIN

LOCAL GOLF

JIM BARNES and Jock Hutchison will start their long exhibition tour at Vancouver Dec. 15, and then play at Victoria, Seattle, Tacoma, and Portland. They will compete in the northern California pen championship at Oakland Jan. 6 and 7. Later they go through the southwest and then on to Georgia and Florida. They have thirty-eight exhibitions booked. Jock will join Jim at Duluth.

R. T. Daily, a veteran local player, has designed a new aluminum putting disk. Unlike the other metal disks, whose sides were convex, the Daily disk has slightly concave sides which permit the ball to roll more naturally into the cup. Daily adopted this shape after several years of experimenting.

Bob McDonald of Bob O'Link, the Metropolitan open champion, has re-opened the indoor school at the store of Thomas E. Wilson & Co., at Wabash avenue and Monroe street.

TribuneDecisions

Decisions of Tribune boxing representatives:

SCHAEFER TAKES LEAD IN MATCH WITH R. CONTI

New York, Dec. 6.—(Special.)—After trailing on the opening day by 175 points, Jake Schaefer swung into the lead today in the third and fourth blocks of his exhibition 18-2 match for 3,200 points with Roger Conti, champion of France. Schaefer won the afternoon block, 400 to 144, and nosed out the Frenchman in the evening, 400 to 369, totaling 1,417 buttons to 1,296 for the French youth. Both played superb billiards.

Willard Sells Kansas Home to Move to California

Lawrence, Kas., Dec. 6.—Jess Willard, former heavyweight pugilistic champion, today sold his Lawrence home, including the furniture and live stock on the place. He will move to California.

NOTES OF THE CUE ROOMS.

Rosenfeld defeated Haber [42], 42 to 33, in the three cushion billiard tournament at Ben-Singer's Wabash rooms. Rosenfeld had a high run of 7 and Haber 9.

In the pocket billiard tournament at Foley's, Messersmith beat Kourike [60], 75 to 38. Tomorrow night O'Brien [65] plays Kourike [60].

BADGER RING COMISH TO SEE MOORE WORK

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.
Pal Moore, local bantamweight, who will trade punches with Champion Johnny Buff for ten rounds before the National A. C. of Milwaukee on Dec. 15, will show his wares before the Badger state boxing commission in the Cream City on Friday.

Frank Mulken, promoter of the show, yesterday asked Manager Harry Hockstadter to make the Milwaukee trip, and Pal will take one of his sparring partners to the battle ground on Friday. Moore is anxious to work in one of the Milwaukee gymnasiums and permit the public to see him in action.

Buff has sent word to Howard Carr, owner of the Arcade gymnasium, that he will work there Friday.

Interest in Bout Grows.

Interest in the contest is growing daily. Howard Capper of Capper & Capper yesterday reserved a block of fifty seats, while requests for over 200 tickets were received at 129 North Dearborn street and 153 North Clark street, where tickets will be placed on sale today.

It will be a popular priced show, prices ranging from $1 to $5, and nearly 9,000 seats will be available in the large auditorium.

Hockstadter has closed two matches for Moore after the Buff bout. On Dec. 19 Pal will box ten rounds with Joey Schwartz before the Moose club of Detroit. Forfeits have been posted and the weight will be 118 pounds at 3 o'clock on the afternoon of the contest. William Baxter is the promoter. On Jan. 9 Moore will step eight rounds with Carl Tremaine of Cleveland at Memphis.

Schaefer in Workout.
Frankie Schaefer, local lightweight, who will meet Frankie Callahan of Columbus in the feature of the naval post boxing show of the American Legion board the U. S. S. Commodore Friday night, worked at the Arcade yesterday. Callahan is expected Friday.

Willie Green, who broke into boxing prominence at Great Lakes in 1918, and his manager, Eddie Stanton, will shift their headquarters to Philadelphia. They leave Sunday.

Herbie Schaefer, local bantamweight who boxed a ten round draw with Bud Taylor at Omaha last Monday night, returned to Chicago yesterday, accompanied by Manager Jim Mullen. Schaefer will resume training tomorrow at the Arcade for pending matches.

WOLTERS NEW AMES CAPTAIN.
Ames, Ia., Dec. 6.—Arthur Wolters was elected captain of the 1922 Iowa State football team tonight. He has two more years of competition.

STRAIGHT FROM THE SHOULDER

IF Ald. Thomas P. Devereaux is able to put over his bill for a commission to supervise all athletics in the city, including the taxing of professional sports, what an awful howl will go up from baseball magnates and other promoters! One might as well cut out their hearts.

The world war veterans who were unable to put over a Zbyzsko-Plestina wrestling match, primarily through the failure of Zbyzsko or his manager to put in an appearance, will not be denied. Their latest announcement is that they would like to get in touch with every heavyweight wrestler of note and put on a series of elimination contests during the month of February, 1922. They announce that a prominent society woman (name not mentioned) has offered to fit up a part of the Municipal pier so that 60,000 people can be comfortably seated in a fireproof arena. We wish the war veterans success, but we doubt if the replies to their invitation will be spontaneous.

Woods and Waters

BY BOB BECKER.
A MAMMAL MIGRATION.
EVERY fall as the birds go south, there also is a group of small mammals that pick up and fly to warmer sections. This group is composed of bats, those mysterious little night flyers that apparently have few friends.

Although bats reach their highest development in the tropics and down there we have seen big fruit eating specimens that measured two feet from wing tip to wing tip, there are several different kinds in the United States. Some of these get into caves during the winter and hibernate. Others fly south in September and October and return with the birds in the spring.

Among the species that go southward in the fall is the little red bat. This member of the night flyers lives during the summer as far north as Ontario and Alberta, in southern Canada. But when autumn comes and his natural food becomes scarce, he hikes out just like the birds, and elects to spend the winter somewhere in the southern part of his range.

Practically all the bats in this country are insect eaters exclusively, which accounts for their having to leave when winter comes.

Neverfailing Blue Serge

The all-around serviceable cloth for a suit to be worn all the time is Blue Serge. The standard dark blue makes it conservative—the texture and weave, practical for all occasions; and its durability makes it desirable to those who want unusual wearing returns.

Nicoll Blue Serge holds its shape and with little attention always gives a well-groomed appearance to the wearer. We are having a special sale at $60 with extra trousers.

It's the greatest value we know—far finer than usual.

SMITH VICTOR OVER F. KAFORA

Jimmy Smith outboxed Frank Kafora at Randolph alleys yesterday afternoon, defeating the local man six in seven games. Smith averaged 215-23 with a high game of 277. Kafora had a mark of 192-67. Smith will roll at the Milridge alleys Saturday and Sunday, meeting Goinick and Panzek the first night, and Melgard and Trader Sunday. Yesterday's scores:

Smith...204 277 205 209 192 228 194
Kafora...170 173 187 235 191 215 179
Hank Marino will be Smith's opponent this afternoon.

PINS FALL HARD IN CITY TOURNEY; 2,770 TOP SCORE

Bowlers in the city pin tourney passed another quiet day yesterday, no leaders being threatened. The Hartless five, after a bad start, finished with enough pins to get a grand total of 2,770, which is fifth high to date. The Drechsler's ran them a poor second with 2,715.

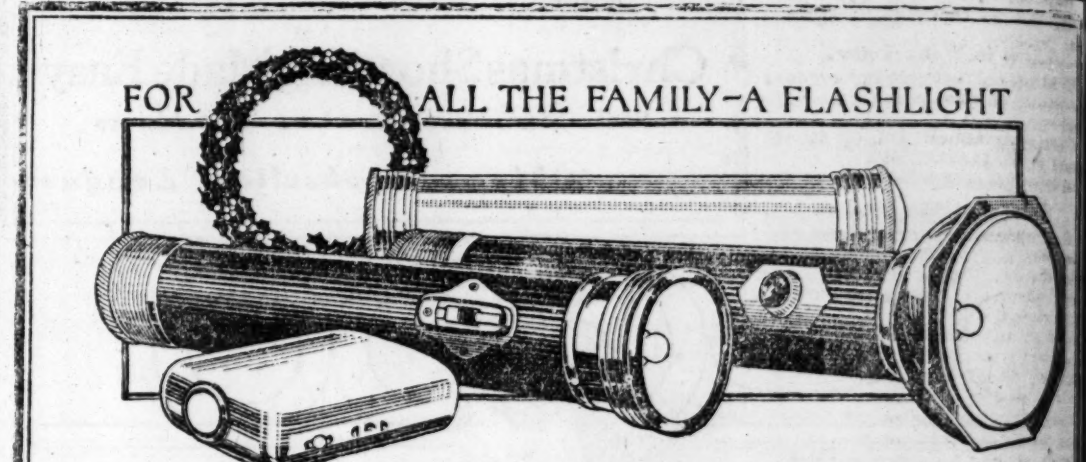

W. Meyer upset enough pins in the singles to get 640, which is ninth high. He fell down in his last game, when he might have overtaken the leader. He was followed by F. Novak with 627 and F. Walters with 618. Eleven scores were 600 or better.

W. Rateike and F. Novak rolled into sixth place in doubles with 1,185. Rateike was the pacer for the pair with 608 pins. W. Krueger and W. Kingsbury, a pair of veterans, gathered in 1,179 with Kingsbury doing the heavy work with 638. Leading scores:

The Christmas Gift OF A THOUSAND USES

Here's a bright idea—give an Eveready Flashlight to every last one on your Christmas list. You can't go wrong on a single one, because there's a type of Eveready for every type of person. Here, surely, is the Christmas Gift of a Thousand Uses.

Christmas morning, watch Dad reach for that handsome Focusing Flashlight with his name on it.

Look at Mother, wreathed in smiles, examining her flashlight. Now she can approach those dark stars with surer tread. No more guessing which is "Grape" and which "Crab Apple" on the dark jam-shelf.

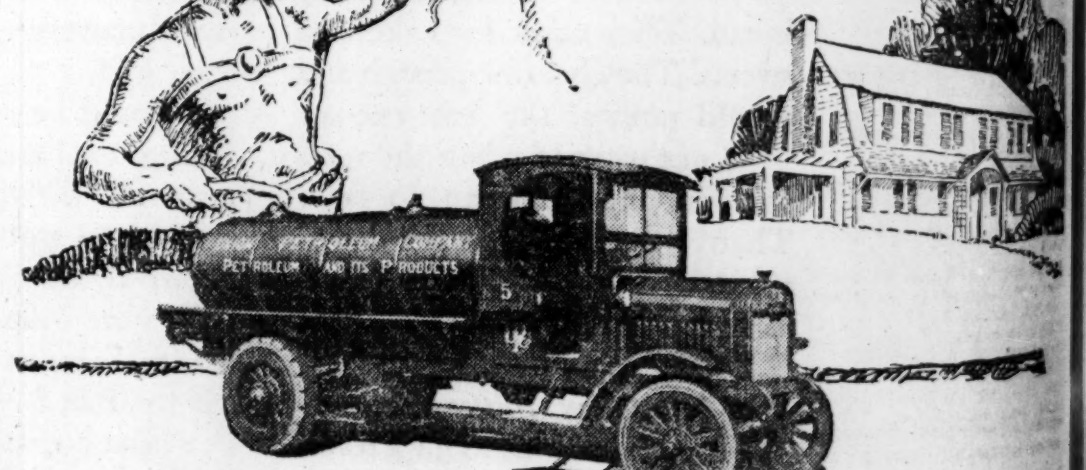

Easy there, Billy. Wait a minute, Betty Jane. There's a Pocket Light for each of you. They're exactly alike, so stop fussing 'bout whose 'tis. Aren't they nice? All smooth and shiny, like a cigarette case.

A bright Christmas? Yes, Sir! Don't wait till the rush is on. Take your list to the nearest electrical, hardware, drug, auto-supply, or sporting-goods store today and make your Christmas selection. Eveready Flashlights for Everybody, from $3.75 down to 70c.

Only genuine Eveready Batteries will insure long-lived, bright-burning service for your Eveready Flashlight. But—Eveready Batteries fit and improve all flashlights.

McGRAW P OVER DE HEIN

STAGE MO

BOSTON, Mass., Dec. 6.—(Special.)—Harry Frazee, comedian, made an offer of $10,000 to the Boston Americans, as price for the club, regarding the sale will be made.

Frazee tonight heard of the offer from the Chicago American, who explained the offer to the Red Sox, who had been through Frazee's sale. He himself is the authenticity of the offer.

Buffalo, N. Y., Dec. 6.—(Special.)—Heinie Groh will be with the Chicago American, who explained the offer to the Red Sox, who had been through Frazee's sale. He himself is the authenticity of the offer.

It was understood a large cash price the deal, but no official announcement was made in this connection. It was reported that the New York club gave $100,000 to complete the deal.

Groh would have been Giants early last season, but he refused to listen to the 1921 spring training. He had been with the Giants since he began, so when a deal between the New York and Chicago clubs for his services was announced, he was on the suspended list to report.

Judge Landis ruled that he came back only if he was released from the suspension. He was released from the suspension of 1921 with the club. Heinie accepted but the fans of Cincinnati were against him all season.

Busts Up Pennant
Whether McGraw will shift in his field, as he has done in the past, is the question. The Phillies last season, Heinie's acquisition meant the end of the Giants' world championship, with Rawlin's retained for utility purposes. Frank Frisch kept a good record, but Frisch probably will be assigned.

Not a little of the commotion over the success of McGraw's cash resources in buying who is almost certain to leave pennant in New York after the season from the Philadelphia National League, and Heinie's acquisition meant the end of the Giants' world championship, with Rawlin's retained for utility purposes. Frank Frisch kept a good record, but Frisch probably will be assigned.

Last of Old Giants
George Burns is the last of the Giants' old guard to be in the regular lineup. He joined the team in 1911 and has become one of the most popular players in New York, though never demonstrated as one of the great players. Gonzales is a former in his position.

Groh had been anxious to leave for a couple of years. A Giant in 1911, 1912, and 1913 was a regular only in the lineup.

RUTH DECIS
WASTED TO J

There was no backfire. Ruth-Bob Meusel-Bill Pfeiffer cases yesterday. Judge Landis' big boss, however, added to his original order, setting down the three Yankees until May 20 next.

If Meusel decides to vacate his position, he has no claim to a ball player's contract and purposes, agreeing to the pastime.

Ruth, now in Washington, has no new developments to charge his fine to advertising. He will spend for his trip to Buffalo to attend the annual association banquet tonight.

He will return here tomorrow and New York for the joint meeting of the major leagues, Dec. 15.

AS high as the chair arm; with a heavy glass ash tray, removable; decorated with tasteful polychrome work on an olive-green foundation.

Gifts for the Home—

SELECTED FROM THE ENDS OF THE EARTH

A HISTORY of the world's progress through the arts might be written after a walk through this group of rooms. Spanish Peasant pottery, a primitive expression of one of the oldest of arts, lies across the isle from the finest of thin porcelain from old China; rare English and Dutch oil paintings hang within a few paces of old oriental Kakemonos.

This cosmopolitanism, which breathes an atmosphere of something beside and above the daily task, is the thing that makes the search for a token for a friend such a joy in the Second Floor, Wabash Avenue Sections; which afford a good selection of such works as:

Tiffany Metal and Glass Wedgwood Ware Rookwood Pottery Steuben Glass
Moradabad Metalware French Lamps and Shades Lenox China Colorful Illinois Pottery
Spode Copeland and other English China Venetian Glass (our own importations)

Italian Faience for a Charming Christmas Table

THE pieces sketched above are our own importation of Italian Faience, a creamy-yellow pottery of charming grace of line. SLUMP IN WHEAT AT MINNEAPOLIS HITS PRICES HERE

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Weakness in December wheat at Minneapolis, where prices were off 4½¢ at one time, more than offset bullish news from Europe and Argentina and precipitated liquidation at Chicago, with the close at net losses of 1½¢ to 2½¢. July leading. Coarse grains weakened with wheat and finished with corn ½¢ to 1½¢ and oats ½¢ to 1½¢ lower, while rye was off 20¢.

There was sufficient bullish news to wheat under normal conditions of trading to have brought about a sharp upturn in prices, but at the top early it showed only light over the finish of the previous day. Foreign cables told of an improved demand for cash wheat and the seaboard claimed a good export business.

Argentine exporters were reported in London cables as rebuying wheat on account of crop deterioration, and Broomfield, after a careful investigation, estimated the surplus from the old crop remaining for shipment at 24,000,000 bu., or half of what was recently said to be on hand, suggesting a total surplus of old and new grain of 143,000,000 bu., compared with 90,000,000 bu. last year. Kansas also sent dry weather reports.

The bullish news, however, counted for little after prices at Minneapolis started downward, and the close there was 3½¢ lower.

While many of the local traders were on the buying side, the market looked the snap which has characterized it of late and on the whole acted rather tired, especially in view of the character of the news. Milling demand for cash wheat was slow, as was the four-trait wheat, and was closed, due to election.

Big Corn Export Predicted.

Prospects of an immense export business of 700,000 bu. in all positions in the west during the day, counted for little in the corn market, and the undertone was heavy from the start.

Oats were affected by the action of other grains and ranged lower, closing at the bottom. Domestic shipping demand was better, but the total business was not given.

Houses with seaboard connections were free buyers of rye early, but the market flattened out later when wheat broke and closed about the bottom.

Fresh Meat Prices Advance.

Fresh meat prices were advanced as the result of the strength in hogs, and with lighter receipts than expected it took but little buying to advance cured product, and was the four-trait high.
